

Ok here it is, you're official commissioner's draft report! WAYYYY more accurate than Yahoo. The teams are listed in order of Yahoo Grade and likely the opposite of the final standings. This year President Trump will be assigning you your commissioner grade, Jay Cutler was too busy trying to figure out if a Dolphin was tougher than a Bear.

Baer's Ballers-New team tame- Meh
Yahoo Grade A

By some stroke of magic, David Johnson dropped to 4th where Ryan snatched him up. He followed it up with Brandon Cooks and TY Hilton, a combo that could work out great or it could spell doom. He took Matt Ryan in the 4th and I can't blame him as 3 QB's had already been taken. Matt Ryan is poised to have a great season but will likely come up well short of his monster season last year. The rest of the squad is a questionable, boom or bust team. What does Mr. President think?

Hit Em With The Hein- New team name: Dez ain't beatin me this year!
Yahoo Grade A

Mark started out with Melvin Gordon and Dez Bryant, not a bad start to the draft. Dez happened to be the player (on my team) that scored like a 100 points in the championship game to put the final nail in the coffin that was Mark's season last year. He's got great depth at WR but I see RB being a thorn in his side this year. Overall, not too shabby. What does Mr. President think?

Sex Panther – New team name: Bench Smench

Yahoo Grade A

Huh. Well he got Brady, that's good. Le'Veon Bell is great. Good D, good K, good TE situation. Starting lineup is looking pretty solid but his bench is going to cause some trouble this year. Cameron Meredith is out for the season, Spencer Ware is out for several weeks and when he does come back K. Hunt will not likely give up his starting role. Tyrod Taylor will be riding a literal bench by midseason. This team could make some noise but literally no one else can get hurt, ever. What does Mr. President think?

Shady's Allstars – New Team Name: I GOT CUTLER, I GOT CUTLER!!!

Yahoo Grade B

Gus selected the 12th pick and went back-to-back strong RB's in Freeman and Ajayi. He also drafted Doug Martin later, which should be a good back-up plan if one of those 2 get hurt. A little weak on WR this team is, but if Pryor lives up to the hype he should be fine. And when Big Ben dies of old age this year he's got smoking Jay Cutler to come to the rescue! What does Mr. President think?

Rustafarians- New Team Name: Autodraft-obots

Yahoo Grade B

Unfortunately Jeremy wasn't able to make it to the draft on time and was at the mercy of autodraft. Not a bad start with OBJ and Jordan Howard but got a little dicey with Ezekiel Elliot as the 3rd pick. Might end up ok if his suspension is reduced. Until then he'll need to rely on Isaiah Crowell from the powerhouse Cleveland offense. Samaje Perine was a nice late round pick and has potential to be a solid RB mid-season. If he can make it .500 through 6-7 games, he might have a chance at the playoffs but that is a tall order with this squad. What does Mr. President think?

....because of Zeke

Fire and Fury- New Team Name: Ashleigh's QB team

Yahoo Grade B

I kinda like this team but I think 3 QB's is a little unnecessary. This team should be good for some high scores but it will depend on McCoy being able to overcome the shortcomings of the terrible team he plays for. Cam Newton, Doug Baldwin, Tyreek are a solid group to lead the way and she has great PPR potential with Theo Riddick and James White. What does Mr. President think?

Back Fat – New Team Name: I like when things breakYahoo Grade B

Jason has some good players but a wee-bit of an injury risk team. Between Alshon, AP, Reed, Luck and Forte team Back Fat will need to load up on some Icey-Hot. He also has 2 white running backs so there's that. All in all I like this team as there is a decent mix of know-what-you're-going-to-get veterans and others with break-out potential. What does Mr. President think?

smakdown- New Team Name: Smakdown (see what I did there?)*Yahoo Grade B-

This team is STACKED at WR and the QB's and TE's shouldn't cause him much problems. Running backs were a problem for Matt last year and I have a sense it will be the weak link this year once again. But this is a really nice team and if Lamar Miller can live up to his potential for once, this team could go far. What does Mr. President Think?

Randy Watson – New Team Name: Gronk's goons

Yahoo Grade B-

Hopkins, Gronk, Gurley, Allen, Cobb, and Woodhead are all coming off of either injury-riddled seasons or disappointing seasons. They all have the potential and all have delivered as fantasy assets in the past. Is this the magic year they all do it again for an entire season? Ryan hopes so! Cousins, Antonio Brown and Gronk should be a solid base as the rest of the team tries to restore their former glory. What does Mr. President think?

'Ol Flea Wicker – New Team Name: Free Twinkies

Yahoo Grade C+

Wick got most improved award last year as it was his rookie season and it seems he continues to improve. His starting lineup is going to be tough to contend with this year, he drafted really well early on which is impressive as he was moving to a new home while drafting...and chewing twinkie flavored gum. The 2nd half of the draft will likely hurt him this year as there are very few players with much potential. Plus only 1 back-up RB in Frank Gore, yikes. Wick is a waiver wire ninja so he should be fine. What does Mr. Trump think?

Wombats – New Team Name: Take your draft strategy and shove it!

Yahoo Grade C+

Chad dominated the regular season last year racking up high score multiple times. He laughed in the face of drafting strategy this year by taking a QB and a TE in the first 4 rounds, and waiting until the 5th and 6th rounds to nab a WR. With that said this ended up being a pretty well-balanced starting line-up. One downside is most of his bench will likely be unusable or at the very least unpredictable. What does Mr. Trump Think?

Champ-nado – New Team Name – Hurricane Repeat

Yahoo Grade D+ (pffft)

I'm a little worried that 3 of my 5 running backs are rookies but with the injury of Spencer Ware, Kareem Hunt is poised to be thrust into the fire from the get. I like my team but most of the players are unproven or I'm expecting them to make the most of their new situation. Not a safe team by any means but I play to win baby!!
